ALAN NUTTER

Upon graduating from Waynoka High, Mr. Nutter joined the U.S. Air Force. After a 20 year career as a pilot, he retired and returned to Waynoka. He then attended Northwestern State College where he received his teaching degree.

His first four years of teaching were in the Jr. High where he taught Science. He then spent the next 10 years teaching High School Math. In May he retired after teaching Waynoka school children for a total of 14 years.

Alan and his wife Emma Louise plan on spending their retirement farming and traveling.

We, the 1986-87 Annual Staff, would like to dedicate this yearbook to Alan Nutter for his many years of teaching and support.

THE END OF AN ERA.

Waynoka had its beginnings more than 100 years ago when a cowboy trading station was established and was called "Keystone." In 1886, the AT&SF Railroad built a railroad siding here. The stockyards were built along the train tracks so that large herds of cattle could be brought to Waynoka and shipped to markets in other parts of the U.S. In 1906 the round house and machine shop were built at the north end of the rail yards so that maintenance could be performed on engines and cars whenever necessary. The trains began changing crews here in 1909, and in 1910 the depot and Harvey House (later called the Reading Room) were built. The Harvey House was built in order to feed thousands of passengers on the trains. When dining cars became popular, the Harvey House closed.

Waynoka had the second largest rail yards in Oklahoma. An ice plant was built, the Railway Ice. Co., so that refrigeration cars could stop over and restock their ice supply. The ice plant was the largest in the world. Waynoka also became a part of aviation history with the establishment of TAT (Transcontinental Air Transport). TAT was the forerunner of TWA. Persons wishing to travel across country could do so by boarding an airplane in the Eastern U.S. and traveling to the TAT airport located northeast of town. From there the passengers would ride a short distance to the Railroad and would continue the journey during darkness to the Clovis, NM. They would then board a plane and continue their journey to the West Coast. The TAT hanger at Waynoka was the third largest in the U.S. Officers of the company included Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh and Amelia Earhart. They visited Waynoka on numerous occasions.

Since the railroad was such an important part of Waynoka, the school decided to call themselves the "Railroaders."

With the passing of the years things changed and so did the role that the railroad played in Waynoka. Slowly former buildings and facilities no longer were needed, and were gradually eliminated. As the railroads role diminished in Waynoka its effects on the community became evident. In September, 1986, the town was dealt a final blow when the bulk of the trains no longer stopped to change crews. Now only the Burlington Northern crews and a local train crew are changed in Waynoka. The depot is now leased by the Waynoka Chamber of Commerce and is used as a museum. With the close of this chapter, in the railroads history in Waynoka, comes "The End of an Era."

REACHING NEW HEIGHTS

On Saturday, May 2, 1987, Billy Brown reminded us that Waynoka school still has great athletes, when he became the Class B State Pole Vault Champion. He not only won the state championship but also set a school record wth a vault of 13′3″. Brown missed his three attempts at 13′6″, but came within only 1 inch of the state record of 13′4″.

Also placing at the state meet were Robert Curliss who received a fourth place medal in the long jump with a jump of 20′5½″. He also finished as the state's seventh best in the 200 meter dash. Keith Inman finished as the sixth best jumper in the state in high jump. Mike Whipple who faced a very strong field of qualifiers in the 400 meter dash barely missed the finals when he placed eighth. Only seven qualified for the finals.

Of the girls who attended the state meet two Waynoka girls placed in their events. Ana Ramirez placed fourth in the 300 m. hurdles with a time of 51.31. Jovona Robinson was the states fourth best in the 400 m. dash with a time of 64.26.
